B

I watch as my daughter and her friends toss their white caps into the air, and I breathe another prayer, placing these past eighteen years into the hands of Him who loves her even more than I do. Then I recall each story I've told her, knowing she takes these stories with her everywhere she goes.

Mom, have you told these stories to your kids? Have you written any of them down? I invite you to write them here, in this book, and then give them to your children.

son or Daughter, I invite you to treasure these stories right from your mom's heart.

is in the word of God.

To the helpless, Jesus is the Mighty God. Present everywhere, limitless in power, with nothing hidden from his knowledge, he is an ever-present help (Psalm 46:1). Nothing is impossible with this Mighty God. To the orphan and the lonely, Jesus is the Everlasting Father, a Father who will never leave or forsake you, who was before all things and will outlast all things, and who knew your name from before the foundations of the earth. And to the hopeless and weary, Jesus is the Prince of Peace. The peace he gives is not like the peace the world gives, which depends on fragile treaties and temporary solutions. Jesus gives perfect peace that can weather any storm.

Someday, the whole world will no longer have to ask, "What child is this?" The child who was laid in a manger will sit on a throne. The babe worshipped by shepherds will be worshipped by kings and rulers. And of the reign of this Wonderful Counselor, Mighty God, Everlasting Father, and Prince of Peace, there will be no end.

Find a recording of "What Child Is This?" As your family listens to the carol, consider who Jesus has revealed himself to be and who he is to you. Next, find a recording of "For Unto Us a Child Is Born" from Handel's Messiah and listen to it as a family, noting every time one of Jesus's names is sung. See if you can memorize all four names by the end of the song—or even the whole verse!

ISRAEL AS A MONARCHY

Samuel Brings About Transition

With the period of the judges coming to a close, attention now focuses upon a person of unique status. Born in response to his barren mother's prayers, Samuel is the last of Israel's judges, one of its many prophets, and the anointer of its first king. As seen even in the laws given to Moses, God has already anticipated his people's desire to have a human king just as the nations around them, and the time is drawing near for God to grant that which he knows will only be destructive to the nation of Israel. With the land of Canaan substantially under Israel's control, it is time for the inevitable transition from a theocracy to a monarchy.

The record of this 465-year period of the kings is contained principally in the books of 1 and 2 Samuel, 1 and 2 Kings, and 1 and 2 Chronicles. As this record unfolds, the monarchy will both thrive and suffer under three major kings, then divide into two smaller kingdoms ruled by a succession of kings—some good, but many more bad—before God's people are overthrown and taken into captivity by foreign powers.

HANNAH MOURNS BARRENNESS. There was a certain man from Ramothaim, a Zuphite<sup>a</sup> from the hill country of Ephraim, whose name was Elkanah son of Jehoshaph, the son of Eliah, the son of Zuph, an Ephraimite. He had two wives; one was called Hannah and the other Peninnah. Peninnah had children, but Hannah had none.

Year after year this man went up from his town to worship and sacrifice to the Lord Almighty at Shiloh, where Hophni and Phinehas, the two sons of Eli, were priests of the Lord. Whenever the day came for Elkanah to sacrifice, he would give portions of the meat to his wife Peninnah and to all her sons and daughters. But to Hannah he gave a double portion because she loved her, and the Lord had closed her womb. Because the Lord had closed Hannah's womb, her rival kept provoking her in order to irritate her. This went on year after year. Whenever Hannah went up to the house of the Lord, her rival provoked her till she wept and would not eat. Her husband Elkanah would say to her, "Hannah, why are you weeping? Why don't you eat? Why are you downhearted? Don't I mean more to you than ten sons?"

<sup>a</sup>See Septuagint and 1 Chron. 6:26-27,33-35; cf. from Ramothaim Zuphite.

MARCH 26

A PRAYER AND A VOW. Once when they had finished eating and drinking in Shiloh, Hannah stood up. Now Eli the priest was sitting on his chair by the doorstep of the Lord's house. In her deep anguish Hannah prayed to the Lord, weeping bitterly. And she made a vow, saying, "Lord Almighty, if you will only look on your servant's misery and remember me, and not forget your servant but give her a son, then I will give him to the Lord for all the days of his life, and no razor will ever be used on his head."

As she kept on praying to the Lord, Eli observed her mouth. Hannah was praying in her heart, and her lips were moving but her voice was not heard. Eli thought she was drunk and said to her, "How long are you going to stay drunk? Put away your wine."

"Not so, my lord," Hannah replied. "I am a woman who is deeply troubled. I have not been drinking wine or beer; I was pouring out my soul to the Lord. Do not take your servant for a wicked woman; I have been praying here out of my great anguish and grief."

Eli answered, "Go in peace, and may the God of Israel grant you what you have asked of him."

She said, "May your servant find favor in your eyes." Then she went her way and ate something, and her face was no longer downcast.

SAMUEL BORN. Early the next morning they arose and worshipped before the Lord and then went back to their home at Ramah. Elkanah made love to his wife Hannah, and the Lord remembered her. So in the course of time Hannah became pregnant and gave birth to a son. She named him Samuel,<sup>b</sup> saying, "Because I asked the Lord for him."

SAMUEL DEDICATED. When her husband Elkanah went up with all his family to offer the annual sacrifice to the Lord and to fulfill his vow, Hannah did not go. She said to her husband, "After the boy is weaned, I will take him and present him before the Lord, and he will live there always."<sup>c</sup>

"Do what seems best to you," her husband Elkanah told her. "Stay here until you have weaned him; only may the Lord make good his word." So the woman stayed at home and nursed her son until she had weaned him. After he was weaned, she took the boy with her, young as he was, along with a three-year-old bull,<sup>d</sup> an ephah<sup>e</sup> of flour and a skin of wine, and brought him to the house of the Lord at Shiloh. When the bull had been sacrificed, they brought the boy to Eli, and she said to him, "Pardon me, my lord. As surely as you live, I am the woman who stood here beside you praying to the Lord. I prayed for this child, and the Lord has granted me what I asked of him. So now I give him to the Lord. For his whole life he will be given over to the Lord." And he worshipped the Lord there.

HANNAH PRAISES GOD. Then Hannah prayed and said:

"My heart rejoices in the Lord;
 in the Lord my horn<sup>f</sup> is lifted high.
 My mouth boasts over my enemies,
 for I delight in your deliverance."

<sup>a</sup>Samuel sounds like the Hebrew for heard by God. <sup>b</sup>Masoretic Text; Dead Sea Scrolls always. I have indicated here as a Masoretic—all the days of his life. <sup>c</sup>Masoretic Text; Dead Sea Scrolls, Septuagint and Syriac use "And she gave him to the Lord." <sup>d</sup>Dead Sea Scrolls, Septuagint and Syriac; Masoretic Text with three bulls. <sup>e</sup>That is, probably about 56 pounds or about 16 kilograms. <sup>f</sup>Here here symbolizes strength; also in verse 10.
